Skin Whitening Treatment:

Skin Whitening is a treatment that uses various methods to lighten skin color. These methods include the use of chemicals, lasers, and creams to reduce the melanin pigment. Melanin pigment is responsible for giving color to the skin and hair. It is also one of the body's defense mechanisms against UV rays. By removing this pigment, the skin becomes lighter in color.

The Skin Whitening Treatment Procedures: A Step- by- Step Guide:

If you wish to obtain a skin whitening or skin lightening treatment in chennai, we have a set of procedures to lighten your skin tone which are as follows:

Chemical Peels:

Chemical peels use chemicals to remove layers of dead skin cells from the epidermis, revealing a lighter and smoother skin surface. This can help reduce hyperpigmentation and remove blemishes and acne scars.

Laser Treatment:

Laser treatments work by targeting the melanin in the deeper layers of the skin with high-intensity light. This causes melanin to break down into smaller particles that can easily be flushed out by the body's immune system.

Microdermabrasion:

This cosmetic procedure removes the thicker and uneven outer layers of the skin to reveal a smoother and more radiant complexion.

Skin Lightening Injection:

Glutathione is a skin lightening injection that works by reducing the pigmentation form melanin on the skin, making it brighter and radiant.
